

Maximus the Hero Horse

My name is Maximus, the one and only number one cool/palace horse. I'm also known as a hero horse.

It started when me and my girlfriend, Judith, were grazing on hay, when we suddenly overheard the king and queen talking about the lost princess.

"We need a hero to go and save our daughter from the enchantres," the king said.

"Yes," agreed the queen. "How about sending our son along with one of our horses?"

"Good idea," answered the king. "We could bring our number one horse, MAXIMUS!"

I started getting chills up my spine. "Oh NO," I yelled. "I'll only save the princess when pigs grow wings!"

"Will you go if I go?" asked Judith, who really wanted me to go. "Fine," I groaned.

"MAXY!" shouted the prince. "We're going to save my sister and make her wish come true."

"Ready for this?" asked Judith.

"Yes," I answered to her, and off we went into the forrest, with danger by our side. We fought off monsters and finally made it to the tower.

"Stay here," demand the prince. What seemed like 30 minutes later, we saw the prince run out with the princess. The prince hopped on me and the princess hopped on Judith.

"RUN!" shouted the startled prince. We saw the ugly enchantres running toward us. We ran back to the castle and celebrated the princesses birthday and lived happily ever after.

The End